THE LOTTERY BILL.

Thursday the Senate, by a vote of 13 to 2, passed an Act authorizing a lottery, which would provide revenue for the State of Nevada.

While the propriety of such a bill is always questioned, the Senators who voted for the bill gave good reasons for their vote. They stated in effect that while for years there had been a law on the Statute books prohibiting the sale of lottery tickets in this State and fixing a penalty, the law had been a dead letter, and never once enforced. The sale of New Orleans lottery tickets is going on every day in this State, and in every town and hamlet in the State. The drain of cash which flows from Nevada to New Orleans amounts to at least $100,000 a year, and the numberless lottery agents state that the sales are constantly increasing.

There is now nothing left to be done but to allow a State lottery to be run in Nevada and stop this monthly grab from the South.

The bill names John Kinkead, J. Klein and D. Circe as the managers of the Lottery, in conjunction with the State Treasurer and Secretary of State, who will superintend the monthly drawings. The bill provides for a franchise of twenty years, with a tax of $12,000 paid to the State the first year, and $25,000 each succeeding year. In the twenty years the State will receive nearly half a million for its Irrigation Fund, and if there is such a fund at its disposal, the hydrographic surveys and Government aid will be of some use to Nevada. The lottery will be popular all over the Coast.

It is estimated that California needs one million a year to New Orleans, and there is no reason why this sum need not be sent to this State. In Louisiana, as in Nevada, there was a law against lotteries, and also a Constitutional clause prohibiting lotteries. The State abolished the Constitutional clause, repealed the law which affixed a penalty, and the lottery was then organized. There being no penalty attached the company was not interfered with, and in two years, there being no prohibition in the Constitution, there was no further legal objection. Attorneys have suggested the same course here.

Major Hendershot Coming.

The following telegram has been received in this city:

Colefax, Cal., Feb. 16.

To Mrs. Judge Leonard or Commander G. A. R. Post: Can you arrange for an entertainment and have Major Hendershot, the drummer boy of the Rappahannock, there February twenty-fifth or twenty-sixth. He can be there on those dates. He is immense. Will help you all we can. Answer.

E. Williams,
W. J. Hanks,
C. C. Wallace,
J. Poujade,
Alex. Fraser,
W. J. Westerfield,
S. J. Beebe.

It seems that our snow bound Solons fell in with the Major at Colefax and were captivated by his matchless drumming. Under such circumstances the ladies of the Relief Corps and the G. A. R. boys could not do otherwise than send a favorable response. Accordingly the Major and his son will be here on the 25th. The best of home talent will be secured to fill out the programme, and the entertainment will undoubtedly be the event of the season.

Petitioning for Annexation.

Sixty-three feet of petition, bearing the name of nearly every resident of the place, was forwarded from Hailey, Idaho, to Washington last week, praying that the Territory of Idaho be annexed to Nevada.

—The Hailey, Idaho, Times says: Now for annexation to Nevada! It is our only hope, our only safety from the infamous attacks that threaten us with ruin! We who have come here to build up this Territory cannot longer afford to remain exposed to the machinations of sworn enemies.

—A Long Beach paper has been purchased by Clinton W. Taylor, a theatrical managuer. He will probably be his own editeur and paragraheur, but will retain the present force of printeurs.
